71b: Our rentable space

Two large sash windows make this space a light and airy place to meet, think or work.

Perfect for meetings, team days or creative sessions, the room is 38 square metres, comfortably fitting up to 16 people sitting, or 30 people standing.

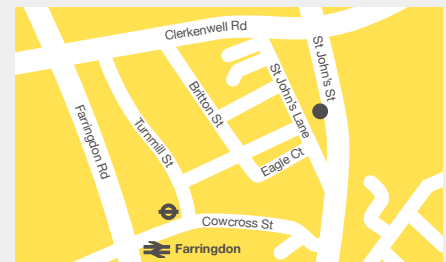

The specially designed table allows you to either sit together or split into two smaller groups.

The break out area also has large comfortable sofas surrounded by bookshelves housing an archive of reference books on social and environmental issues, communications, advertising and behaviour change.

The room has excellent computing and video conferencing facilities, designed to do everything you need, and be really easy to use.

We'll also let you write all over the walls: well, at least one of them, which is a floor-to-ceiling white board.

The space is conveniently located near to good public transport links and a number of places to eat and drink on and around St John Street.
